Homeseller Guide

Congratulations, you have Decided to Sell Your Home!

There Are 5 Main Ingredients That Make up the Sale of Your Home. When all of the above ingredients are in agreement...there is a good possibility your home will sell! If just one ingredient is out of line, it will take a longer time to sell. The more ingredients that are out of line, the longer it will take before you can begin packing and moving to your new home.

1. LOCATION	You usually cannot move a home! To coin the favorite phrase of appraisers: "Location, Location, Location". The pricing of your property must reflect its location.
2. CONDITION	The upkeep and presentation of your property is crucial to obtain the highest value for your home in any given market at any given time. The pricing of your property must reflect its condition.
3. PRICE	Price is the number one factor in the sale of a home. A property is really only worth what one person is willing to pay another to gain ownership of the property. Price must be in direct relationship to the other four ingredients and it is the most important of all!
4. TERMS	The more terms available on your property, the more potential purchasers you reach. The pricing of your property must reflect the kinds of terms available to purchase it.
5. THE MARKET	Interest rates, competition, and the economy all make up and influence the state of the market when you sell your home. The pricing of your property must reflect the current status of the market.

Thinking About Selling By Owner?

Selling your home yourself depends on your personal preferences and how much time and energy you're willing to invest in your home sale.

Industry experts advise against owners selling their own homes, citing that an experienced real estate sales professional can find the right buyer, the best price and often prevents costly and time-consuming problems that may arise during the transaction.

Home sellers need to be prepared to do a lot of the work, like holding their own open house. You will need to be outgoing and comfortable answering endless questions about your property. You will need to accept that strangers are going to look in your closets, under your sink and cabinets, etc.

Patience can also be important when holding out for the best possible offer. A good eye and a willingness to spend time staging your home are helpful, too. You can hire staging consultants to give advice on how to make your home look its best. Sometimes an objective set of eyes can see "curb appeal" that you may have overlooked.

Common FSBO Mistakes

- Repairs that may need to be done prior to presenting your home for sale vs. repairs that are to be done after you find a buyer are important decisions and may affect your asking price for the home.
- Are you going to prepare the contract yourself or are you going to have an attorney prepare it for you? Either way, you need to have a copy ready for the buyer to sign on the dotted line at a moment's notice.
- 3 Select a title or settlement company before putting your home on the market so the company can take delivery of the contract and the buyer's earnest money check. Many FSBO sellers are simply not prepared to sell their home and unaware of the sale and closing process.
- 4 What is a competitive price for a home? Are you informed enough or able to do research to competently price your home? Or do you need the assistance of a professional appraiser? Many appraisers will sell you a competent and objective "paper appraisal."

If you price your property too high, it could take forever to sell it. If you price the home too low, you could lose money.

Real estate agents consistently work to keep properties in front of buyers by placing them into their shared database known as MLS: Multiple Listing Service. The MLS database provides real estate professionals access to your property information to increase visibility and opportunities for a sale.

- Title Insurance: Title insurance protects the buyer and lender against any unforeseen claims or defects in the title that may arise after the purchase.
- Closing Services: The title company facilitates the closing process by coordinating with all parties involved, preparing necessary documents, and ensuring that funds are transferred securely.
- Escrow Services: The Title Company may also act as an escrow agent by holding funds and documents in escrow until all conditions of the sale are met and then disbursing them accordingly.

Build your Dream Team: Using a Real Estate Professional

Real Estate has become a very complicated business. Selling or buying a home will be one of the most important financial transactions of your life.

From the moment you consider buying, here are six reasons why it's recommended to work with a REALTOR[®]:

- Fair and adhere to a code of ethics
- Expert advisor
- Objective information and opinions
- Expanded Search Power
- Negotiating Knowledge
- Keeping current on laws and regulations/Ensure up to date experience

Most importantly, when it comes to closing escrow, your professional can be invaluable in leading you through the paperwork and familiarizing you with insurance, property disclosures, inspection procedures and so much more.

It's always a good market in real estate - when you know what you're doing - and no one knows as much as your real estate professional about today's real estate market.

Questions to Ask When Choosing a REALTOR®

How long have you been a REALTOR®?

How do your fees work?

What is happening in this area?

How can the current market impact making an offer on a home?

Do you have any references of previous clients?

Planning to Sell

So you're planning to sell your home. You have decided on a price, based on current market values, but your home may sell faster and bring a higher price if it shows well. Potential buyers will get the best impression if your home is clean, neat, uncluttered, in good repair, light, airy and quiet. Here are a few general guidelines to get your home show ready:

Clean Everything

Cleanliness signals to a buyer that the home has been well cared for and is most likely in good repair. A messy or dirty home can cause prospective buyers to notice every flaw.

Unclutter

Unclutter your home before you show it. Have a garage sale. Empty closets. Throw away what you can't sell. The less "stuff" in and around a home, the roomier it will seem.

Let the Light In

Raise the shades. Open the blinds. Pull back the curtains. Put brighter bulbs in all the lamps (but not bright enough to cause a glare). Bright, open rooms feel larger and more inviting. Dark rooms can feel small and gloomy.

Get rid of unpleasant odors (tobacco, pets, cooking, and musty or sour laundry). Fresh flowers and potpourri can be used to your advantage. Other smells that attract positive attention might include fresh baked bread and cinnamon.

Paint

A fresh coat of neutral paint can improve the value of a home at a minimal cost, and it's often easier to paint a room than it is to scrub it.

Fix Anything That is Broken

This could include plumbing, electrical systems, switches, windows, screens, doors, squeaky floorboards and fences. If it can't be fixed or replaced consider getting rid of it.

A buyer may make a much lower offer if your house is in disrepair and will probably still insist that everything be fixed before taking occupancy. You're better off if you leave potential buyers no reason to offer less than you are asking.

) Send Pets Away

Send your pets away or secure them when prospective buyers are coming. You never know who will be annoyed or intimidated by your pets or even allergic to them.

Ser Ser

Send the Kids to Grandma's

Send your kids to grandmas or take them on a walk around the block. Children can become an adorable distraction to someone interested in looking at a home.

Keep Noise Down

Silence is a restful sound that appeals to most everyone. Turn off the TV, but consider soft instrumental music. If necessary, close the windows to eliminate any street noise.

Contract Clarity: The Appraisal

The appraisal process consists of three main steps and are normally in the following sequence by an appraiser:

- Research the property as to size, bedrooms, baths, year built, lot size and square footage.
- Gather data of recent sales in the subject's neighborhood. The appraiser needs to locate at least three, preferably more, similar-sized homes that have sold in the neighborhood. The homes should be within one mile of the subject property and sold within the past six months. These homes are considered the "Comparable Properties", or "Comps" for short.
- Field inspection consists of two parts: First, the inspection of the subject property. Second, the exterior inspection of the comparable properties that have been selected to estimate the value of the subject property.

The appraisal value of a home is an important factor in the loan underwriting process. The loanto-value (LTV) ratio is based on the appraised value and helps the lender figure out how much money may be borrowed and at what terms. If the property does not appraise for the contract purchase price then you may have to come to the table with more money for the down payment or ask your agent to renegotiate the sales price. Appraised value doesn't always represent the whole picture. There are special considerations that appraised value doesn't consider, such as the need to sell rapidly. Appraisers use data from recent past sales and are often considered somewhat backward looking.

HELPFUL TIP

While your home is being inspected, do not follow the appraiser from room to room causing distraction. Instead, allow the inspection to go smoothly. In the event the appraiser has any questions, be close by to answer them. The time to mention the things you think are important is either before or after the appraisal.

Key Professionals to Know In a Real Estate Transaction

Appraiser

Works on behalf of a lender and provides a market analysis of the subject property. An appraiser's finding is subjective and combined with market findings of sold properties within the surrounding neighborhood.

Buyer's Agent/Broker

Works with the buyer to locate a suitable property and negotiate a successful home purchase.

Escrow/Closing Officer

An unbiased third party who works with all participants to facilitate a successful closing of a real estate transaction. At closing, the closing officer will collect the purchase money funds from the buyer and lender as well as the settlement costs from each party. They disburse the funds in accordance with the HUD-1 settlement statement and record the necessary documents to transfer ownership of the property.

Home Inspector

Objectively and independently provides a comprehensive analysis of a home's major systems and components.

Insurance Agent

Helps a homebuyer determine the homeowner's protection coverage needed and then finds the right insurance policy to fit those needs.

Listing Agent/Broker

Forms a legal relationship with the homeowner to sell the property.

Loan Officer

A financial key professional. They are a representative of a bank or other financial institution. They help customers identify their borrowing options and help them understand the terms of their loan.

Real Estate Agent

Licensed by the state to represent parties in the transfer of property. Every REALTOR® is a real estate agent, but not every real estate agent has the professional designation of a REALTOR®.

Real Estate Attorney

Can give advice on all legal aspects of the real estate transaction. Additionally, they are able to draft and review contracts, help decide how to take title and assist with the closing process. In some states, real estate closings can only be conducted by attorneys.

REALTOR®

A licensed real estate agent and a member of the National Association of Realtors®. They also belong to their state and local association of REALTORS®. When looking for a REALTOR®, the first key professional, the best place to start is by asking friends and neighbors for referrals. Another resource is the Find a REALTOR® search feature on the National Association of REALTORS® (NAR) website.

Title Company

Verifies that the seller has the legal right to sell the property to a buyer. A title company can issue a policy, called title insurance, that protects homeowners and lenders from conflicts (like title claims) that may arise from the property's previous owners.

What is Escrow?

Escrow is a term that describes the neutral third-party handling of funds, documents, and tasks specific to the closing (or settlement, as it is also known), as outlined on the real estate purchase agreement or sales contract. The purpose of escrow is to facilitate the transaction by managing the disbursement of funds.

Q.Q. Key Players

In accordance with local custom, the buyer or seller involved in the transaction will select the escrow provider, though they often defer to their real estate agent to make this decision. This provider could be an escrow company, title officer, or title/escrow attorney, depending upon many considerations, including the geographical location of the transaction.

ရှိ Roles

The escrow provider may have a duty to arrange and/ or track the requirements and contingencies outlined within the purchase contract. These might include home inspections, the purchase of homeowners insurance, the completion of negotiated repairs, and financing requirements.

Process

Once all transaction contingencies are met, including the execution of all documents necessary to complete the transaction, the escrow company will disburse funds to the appropriate parties, all in accordance with the purchase agreement.

Cost

The cost of escrow services is covered by the buyer or seller as determined by local custom, market conditions, or contractual agreements made within the purchase offer.

Closing/Consummation

Once all the tasks described within the sales purchase agreement have been completed and the appropriate funds are disbursed, the transaction is complete and the escrow closes.

Tips for a Timely Closing

Although closing procedures vary from state to state, having an understanding of what may be required at closing and preparing accordingly will help your settlement process go as smoothly as possible.

Mortgages on The Property

Provide detailed information, including loan number and payment address, for all mortgages on the property. Home Equity lines, even if they have a zero balance, will also require detailed mortgage information in order to satisfy the original loan requirements.

Home Warranty

If a home warranty product is being provided and shown on contract, advise the closing/settlement agent of the purchase amount to be collected.

Maintenance Contracts

If there are service contracts on equipment or appliances that the purchaser wants to assume, provide the closing/ settlement agent with a copy of the service contract.

Mobile Notary

If you are unable to attend the closing, notify the title company. Your signature on certain affidavits, real estate deeds and other documents may require the services of a notary.

Internal Revenue Service (IRS)

The closing/ settlement agent is required to report the sale of the property to the IRS. You will need to provide your Social Security number(s) and forwarding address.

Foreign Investment in Real Property Tax Act of 1980 (FIRPTA)

If you are not a United States citizen, the closing/ settlement agent may be required to deduct and withhold a tax equal to 15% of amount realized (generally the amount paid for the property).

Power of Attorney

The use of a power of attorney must be approved in advance of settlement by the closing agent. If you are planning to use a power of attorney, inform the closing/ settlement agent as soon as possible to allow time to properly review the document.

Spouses may be required to sign closing documents even though they do not appear to hold title and their name does not appear on the deed. Spouses must always sign the deed when homestead property is being conveyed, even if they are not in title.

Contract Clarity: Closing Day

Valid Photo Identification

To help defend against forgery and fraud, state notary laws include requirements that parties signing documents in a real estate transaction provide acceptable forms of identification. Although specific requirements may vary from state to state, here is a general overview of the type(s) of identification that are typically used to substantiate and affirm identity.

Acceptable Identification

One or more of the following may be requested to verify identification. The document must be current and contain the document signer's photograph, physical description, signature, and bear a serial or other identifying number.

- Valid Driver's License or Non-Driver ID Issued by any State
- United States Passport
- Valid United States Military ID
- ✓ Veterans Health ID Card
- Foreign Passport Stamped by the U.S.
 Citizenship and Immiaration Services (USCIS)
- Valid Canadian or Mexican Driver's License Issued by the Official Agency*

Unacceptable Identification

- X Temporary Driver's License
- X Driver's License without a Photograph
- X Security Card
- X Employee ID Badge

Closing document signatures must match the name that appears on the identification presented. An abbreviated form (John D. Smith instead of John David Smith, for example) may be acceptable. However, deviation is only allowed if the individual is signing with less than and not more than what is on the identification document. If your name has changed, or will change, prior to the closing, documentation must be provided to support the change.

Cashier's Check or Wire Transfer

In the event you are required to bring funds to closing, we cannot accept personal checks or cash. A cashier's check or wire transfer is required. If you prefer to wire your funds, contact us for bank routing instructions.

If Possible, All Parties Who Hold Title to the Property Should Attend the Closing

Texas is a community property state. State-specific laws may require the spouse of the parties in title, even though their name does not appear on the deed, to sign certain documents when selling a property. If anyone is unable to attend closing, contact McKnight Title for arrangements.

CHECKLIST

Closing day is an important milestone. There are several key items that home sellers in Texas should prepare for. Below is a checklist of items to consider if applicable:

- Payoff Authorization to Release Information
- Association/Condo Contact Information
- A Cashier's Check or Wire Transfer

Tips for Moving with Pets

Moving to a home in a new location can be an exciting adventure, but it can also be the cause of stress and confusion for household pets. To minimize the trauma, here are a few tips that may help make your pet's transition a little easier:

✓ Schedule a Vet Check-Up

Obtain a copy of your pet's medical history along with rabies certifications that state when/where your pet was vaccinated. Keep an ample supply of current medications to last until a veterinarian in your new location can provide refills.

Proper Identification is Essential

Be certain that any required license tags are secured properly and the contact information is current.

Consider Boarding

Consider boarding your pet during the most hectic of moving days. Pets can become anxious with the increase of activity prior to a move.

✓ Gather Car Supplies

To avoid losing important pet supplies, gather items like a favorite toy or two, leash and food bowls.

Know State Requirements

For the movement of pets across state lines, contact the State Veterinarian in your new location to obtain the most current information.

Pet-Friendly Accommodations

Long-distance moves may require an overnight stay. People and pet- friendly accommodations can be found by searching a number of internet sites.

Allow Time to Acclimate
